A reference booklet.

Actual Size:
5 1/2" x 7 1/2"

1. The Control Card

The fox is a mammal. The fox is a plant and meat-eating carnivora. The fox mostly eats small animals, but it also eats grass, berries, nuts and roots.

The fox coat varies from red to black or silver to a mixture of red and black. The upper areas of its legs have black and white stripes.

Foxes live in the deserts, scrub, grasslands, plains, forests and Artic snow of North America. Foxes came to North America from England by ship with the Pilgrims.

The fox is intelligent and quick. It can outfox a pack of hounds and humans. Its huge tail provides warmth like a warm blanket. The fox is nocturnal.

Adult foxes grow from 14 to 39 inches long. Their tail is from 7 to 20 inches long. They weigh up to 10 pounds.

I am a mammal. I live in the deserts, scrub, grasslands, plains, forests and Artic snow of North America. I am nocturnal.

6 c. The Who Am I? Cards

These cards are the final step. The animal and its name are cut off. All the information is mixed up on the card. The child reads the card to determine what animal it describes and then finds the picture label that matches.

Continent Animals

I first saw your display of animals at a NAMTA conference. Our whole staff was attracted to the amazing quality of each animal.

We purchased animals sets for each of the seven continents.

This proved to be the greatest purchase we have made to enrich the children's interest in the continents. It is the #1 choice made by the children every day.

We have witnessed the explosion in language and the interest in the continents as well as the sensorial stimulation the animals provide. Thank you and keep up the great work!

Montessori Readers Series

These books are for any child who can read or wants to read—at any age. Even some three-year-olds can read as well as most fives. Children discover that each book tells a story about a familiar and perhaps favorite material they have worked with. New and key words are highlighted in red.

Children can read to each other. Introduce the books in a circle lesson or to a single child. Children relate what they read to their own experience.

Sensorial Materials Set 1

Book 1 describes the activity. "This is the pink tower. Get a mat. Put it on the floor. Hold the pink cube with both hands..."

Book 2 presents the language of the activity. "This is a small cube. This is a large cube."

The Pink Tower
 Book 1 The Exercise
 Book 2 The Language

The Broad Stair
 Book 1 The Exercise
 Book 2 The Language

The Red Rods

Word Lists for American English Revised Edition

Over many years, teachers have reported that they use Word Lists regularly in their classroom. Some even tell us they use it everyday!

Compiled and edited by
 Lillian DeVault Kroenke

Suggestions for use and analysis of the language, listing phonetic words, puzzle words and phono-grams are included in each book. Repeated patterns used in each set reinforce new vocabulary and build confidence.

The Montessori teacher's guide to the structure of the American English language. Word Lists can be used for the Montessori language sequence with any color coding scheme. 8 1/2" x 11"; 160 pages.

Practical Life Set 1
 Spooning and Pouring

Book 1 Describes the motor skills activity designed to help children establish handedness rather than eye movement for reading. The handle of the pitcher is placed on the right because more than 80 per cent of us are right-handed.

Book 2 Presents the language of the activity. "This is the pitcher. This is the handle. This is the spout..."

My First 50 Words Dictionary

A great reference! Ideal for children as they become aware that not all words are spelled as they sound and who are just beginning to compose their own stories. Helps the child master basic sight word reading and spelling skills while learning to use an index. Includes suggestions for use. Two colors 5 1/2" x 8 1/2"; 16 pages.
